

Vulcan Infrastructure and Power to Participate in iAccess Alpha Virtual Best Ideas Fall Investment Conference

PITTSFORD, N.Y., September 14, 2026 – Vulcan Infrastructure and Power Inc. (Nasdaq: VIP) (“Vulcan” or the “Company”), a power and infrastructure platform focused on acquiring, developing, and operating energized sites that support artificial intelligence (“AI”) and high-performance computing (“HPC”) data centers, today announced that CEO Jordan Kovler will participate in the iAccess Alpha Virtual Best Ideas Fall Investment Conference being held on September 15-16, 2026. This event marks the first conference for Vulcan since the announcement and closing of the $39.4 million strategic investment into the Company.

Event: iAccess Alpha Virtual Best Ideas Fall Investment Conference

Date: September 15-16, 2026

Location: Virtual

Event Link: <https://www.iaccessalpha.com/>

Management will give a virtual presentation on Tuesday, September 15 at 4:30pm ET (webcast available here) and will be available for 1x1 virtual meetings the following day.

An archived replay of the webcast will be available immediately after the live presentation and remain available for one year. It will also be available on the Company's website.

About Vulcan Infrastructure and Power Inc.

Vulcan Infrastructure and Power Inc. (Nasdaq: VIP) is a power and infrastructure platform focused on acquiring, developing, and operating energized sites that support artificial intelligence and high-performance computing data centers, as well as local electricity grids.

Investor Contact

FNK IR
Rob Fink or Joey Delahoussaye
IR@VulcanIP.com
312-809-1087